Additional information

I have been teaching since 1984. I conduct lectures, coursework, practical and laboratory work in durability of materials and applied mechanics.

For years, I have been actively involved in the educational process, participated in scientific conferences. Under my leadership, students participating in student scientific conferences have received diplomas.

I actively participated in drawing up the syllabi of specialty subjects, I am the author of 50 scientific works and 4 auxiliary manuals, including methodical instructions for laboratory works; I compiled laboratory journals in Georgian, Russian and English languages, which are essential and very necessary for students.
